15 Years of Trust Rajoo Bausano and Lexus Polymers Mark a Journey of Partnership.

In 2026, Rajoo Bausano celebrates a significant milestone as it marks 15 years of association with Lexus Polymers, one of the company's earliest and most enduring customer relationships.

In the world of plastics processing, lasting customer relationships are built not merely on machines, but on technology, reliability, support and trust. In 2026, Rajoo Bausano celebrates a significant milestone as it marks 15 years of association with Lexus Polymers, one of the company's earliest and most significant customer relationships.

The journey began 15 years ago when Lexus Polymers, led by Mr. Divyesh Virparia, partnered with Rajoo Bausano for a CPVC Pipe Plant. This installation marked a defining moment for Rajoo Bausano's journey as Lexus Polymers became the company's first customer.

What began with a single installation has since evolved into a long-standing association shaped by industry experience, technological advancements and mutual trust. Over the years, the association stands as a reflection of Rajoo Bausano's commitment to understanding evolving customer requirements and providing extrusion solutions aligned with their production needs.

Speaking about the 15-year association between Lexus Polymers and Rajoo Bausano, Mr. Divyesh Virparia, Owner of Lexus Polymers, said, "Our 15-year journey with Rajoo Bausano has been built on trust, reliable technology and dependable support. The CPVC pipe plant has been an important part of our production journey and has added significant value to our operations. What we value most is the team's continued responsiveness and commitment—making this much more than a customer-supplier relationship."

For Rajoo Bausano, the Lexus Polymers relationship represents more than a milestone in years. It represents the value of earning customer confidence and sustaining it over time.

"Lexus Polymers holds a very special place in Rajoo Bausano's journey as our first customer. Fifteen years of association is a proud milestone and a reflection of the confidence placed in our technology, engineering and service. We sincerely value the faith that Mr. Divyesh Virparia and his team have shown in us over the years. Partnerships like these inspire us to keep raising the bar in technology, performance and customer support."

— Mr. Sandip Bhuvra, CEO, Rajoo Bausano Extrusion Pvt. Ltd.
